Parent Expectations, Student Information & Commitment Survey

At ISG Weekend School, our teachers and volunteers are committed to providing quality instruction, guidance, and a positive Islamic learning environment. However, one day of Weekend School each week cannot by itself achieve our educational goals without continued encouragement, practice, and reinforcement at home.

As a parent/guardian, I understand that I share responsibility for my child's educational progress and will make every reasonable effort to:

- Ensure my child attends regularly and arrives on time.
- Encourage respectful behavior and adherence to classroom and school rules.
- Read school communications and remain informed about my child's progress.
- Ensure that homework and assigned Qur'an, Arabic, and Islamic Studies practice are completed.
- Review and reinforce at home what my child learns at Weekend School.
- Communicate with teachers when there are academic, attendance, homework, or behavioral concerns.
- Attend parent meetings and conferences whenever possible.
- Support the teachers, volunteers, administration, and educational goals of ISG Weekend School.

5. My Commitment as a Parent

Please check each statement:

- ☐ I understand that my child's education is a shared responsibility between the student, parents, teachers, and school.

- ☐ I agree to regularly review my child's homework, assignments, and educational progress.
- ☐ I agree to communicate and cooperate with the teacher and school administration when concerns arise.
- ☐ I will encourage my child to take responsibility for learning, homework, good behavior, and respectful participation.
